Fifth Son For Bing Is Born Yesterday

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Crooner Bing Crosby, 47, gave birth to his fifth son yesterday. The new son will be named "Bing" and his mother's name will be "Bing."

"Kathy's mother reserved the right to name the baby if it was a boy and she won't be here until later today," the famous singer said.

"But you can bet he'll be nicknamed 'Tex,'" he added. Crosby's young Texan wife, Kathy, 23, gave birth to their first child Friday less than seven hours after she was admitted to Queen of Angels Hospital.

The 34-year-old Crosby's happy comment when he first saw the 7-pound, 9-ounce boy was, "Hooray! Looks like I got a fine shortstop there."

"I expected a boy all along," Crosby said. It was reported he and his wife had hoped for a girl and had already chosen a name, Mary Frances.

But Crosby, who had fathered four sons by his first wife, Dixie, who died of cancer in 1952, was plainly elated that he had fathered another son.

"He's a very healthy boy and has black hair," Crosby told reporters.

Crosby and actress Kathy Grant, the former Olive H. Grandstaff of West Columbia, Ky., were married Oct. 24 last year in a Catholic church in Las Vegas. It was her first marriage.

Dr. Abner J. Moss said the birth had been normal with no complications. He said the baby had not been expected until Aug. 17 but, that, both mother and child were "doing well."

U. N. Delegates Today Study Hamarskjold's Peace Plan

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press International

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — U. N. delegates today studied Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's outline of a peace plan for the troubled Middle East in preparation for the crucial debate in the 81-member General Assembly next week.

Hammarskjold put forward his plan at the opening Friday of the emergency session of the General Assembly, called by the Security Council at the request of the United States to deal constructively with the fundamental, broad problems involved in the Middle East.

The assembly organized and then adjourned until 10:30 a.m. Wednesday to permit the foreign ministers of member nations to get to New York to participate in the debate.

The Soviet government announced its delegation would be headed by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, a one-time familiar figure to the U. N. chambers. Reports from Moscow said Gromyko and his 30-man delegation are expected to arrive in New York sometime today.

Britain's delegation will be headed by Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd.

In Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi of the United Arab Republic will fly in from Cairo.

Thus far, there has been no announcement from Washington on whether Secretary of State John Foster Dulles would head the U. S. team in what promises to be a hot and furious debate.

While the assembly itself is marked time, the battle of words continued unabated from the various capitals. In Washington, the United States formally accused the U. A. R. of circulating "various foreign countries" in "various foreign countries" United States as seeking the "disintegration" of the union of Egypt and Syria.

To Launch Largest Sub August 19

GROTON, Conn. (UPI) — The biggest submarine ever built, the atomic-powered USS Triton, will be launched here Aug. 19, a stony throw of the ways from which the USS Nautilus slid into the Thames River in January, 1954.

She will be the eighth nuclear submarine to be launched by this country. Eleven more are under construction and seven more are authorized.

Compared to the 319-foot, 3,200-ton Nautilus, the Triton will be 447 feet long, with a displacement of 5,900 tons and will be the first submarine with two nuclear reactors. They will be water-cooled, the same type which propels the Nautilus and USS Skate, but of more modern design.

The Triton, which must go off the ways with part of its superstructure incomplete, because of its enormous size, is a radar-picket sub which will serve as a "private eye" for the U. S. Navy and undersea fleet.

She was built by the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., which constructed the only three A-boats now in operation.

On the other ways adjacent to where the Triton now is, is perched are hulls of Polaris missile submarines which will be capable of hurling lethal shots with a 1,500-mile range.

At another section of the Electric Boat shipyard workers are constructing still another A-boat, the USS Tullibee which is designed as a killer submarine to track down and destroy enemy submarines.

The Triton, when she is outfitted and after completing sea trials will join the country's First Atomic Submarine Division which was created here this past June. It is commanded by Capt. Eugene P. Wilkinson, the first skipper of the Nautilus.

Now operating in this division are Nautilus, Seawolf and Skate. The revolutionary aquatic Skipjack, launched May 26, will be a part of the division when it finishes sea trials and is accepted.

So will the Tullibee and the two Polaris missile boats which should be in the water some time next year.

Nautilus Sub Sails Under North Pole

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The history-making voyage under the North Pole by the atomic submarine Nautilus today added a deadly new twist to U. S. defenses.

Adm. Elton W. Grenfell, Pacific submarine commander, hailed the dramatic voyage as "America's answer to Sputnik."

The 1,830-mile, four-day cruise beneath the polar ice cap means the Navy can cut by more than half the time required to switch its missile-carrying nuclear subs between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

The voyage also pioneered a new and shorter commercial link between the two oceans — a route that might be used by cargo submarines and added to man's knowledge of the subarctic and Arctic basin.

The Nautilus, which began its record-breaking non-stop cruise at Portland, England, when U. S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney was on hand to present a Presidential Unit Citation to the crew.

The United States has six nuclear submarines built under construction and seven more authorized. So far as it is known Russia has yet to launch its first nuclear sub.

Adm. Elton W. Grenfell, commander of submarines in the Pacific, said at Pearl Harbor that the Nautilus' dramatic voyage was "America's answer to the Sputnik."

Cdr. William R. Anderson, skipper of the Nautilus, was rushed by helicopter and transported from Iceland to the White House Friday for an announcement of the history-making voyage, completed Tuesday.

The importance attached to the feat was demonstrated by the fact President Eisenhower personally awarded the Legion of Merit to Anderson in a specially called ceremony in the White House Conference Room.

The mood in congress after announcement of the event was jubilant. Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) keyed sentiment when he said the voyage should give all American faith in their country.

Plan Cargo Subs
President Eisenhower emphasized the Nautilus' exploit point, the way for further exploration, and possible use of this route by nuclear-powered cargo submarines as a new commercial link.

Used New Devices
The Nautilus' achievement could be credited mainly to nuclear power, which uses no oxygen and therefore makes possible indefinite submergence, but other great scientific advances also contributed.

The sub was equipped with sonar sound echoing devices giving a continuous reading of the ocean depth with unprecedented accuracy throughout the cruise.

In a few years, according to the Navy, these devices will have so thoroughly mapped the topography of the ocean floor that a submarine will be able to determine its position with as much accuracy as a surface ship.

The Navy disclosed the Nautilus used an "inertial guidance" system, which enabled the sub to find its course without reference to the stars or other normal navigational aides, to traverse the North Pole and thus beat what Anderson referred to as "longitudinal roulette" when its compass became useless.

The Nautilus also carried closed-circuit television-type equipment, enabling it to take pictures of the underside of the polar ice cap. The ice was found to average about 12 feet in thickness, with some ridges as much as 50 feet thick.

80 Year Old Man Held In Mercy Killing

HEMPSTAD, N.Y. (UPI) — An 80-year-old man facing arraignment today on a first-degree murder charge in the "poisoning" killing of his wife, helpless for 12 years, said a hospital repeatedly refused to admit her because she was not an emergency case.

Plagued by mounting medical bills, increasing debts and a heart condition, William J. Gerst, a retired accountant, had sought twice on Thursday to have his crippled wife, Nell, admitted to Meadowbrook Hospital.

Her doctor also had asked that she be admitted because Gerst no longer could care for her as he had the past 20 years, eight of which Mrs. Gerst had been bedridden with Parkinson's Disease, a progressive form of palsy.

But on all three occasions, the hospital denied her admittance on the ground she was not an emergency case.

Finally, Friday, as Gerst picked up his razor to shave, his wife said: "You could kill me with that. Why don't you?"

Gerst hesitated a moment then slashed her throat. Then he telephoned his granddaughter, Mrs. Lynn Hughes, in nearby Brentwood, to tell her "he had done and said."

"Now I'm going to cut my throat, too."

Mrs. Hughes called police. When they arrived they found Mrs. Gerst dead in bed and Gerst wandering around in a daze, his throat cut superficially. He was taken to the prison ward of the Meadowbrook Hospital.

Calhoun Falls To Gene Armstrong

NEW YORK (UPI)—Unbeaten Gene (Ace) Armstrong, the cream-puff puncher who suddenly turned dynamite against Rory Calhoun, is ready for "any mid-weight in the world."

That's what Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said today about the slender 26-year-old Negro who floored slugger Calhoun four times en route to a unanimous 10-round decision Friday night for his 15th straight victory.

"We'll match him at the earliest opportunity with any contender who'll fight him—or even the champion," declared Markson, tremendously enthused over Armstrong's performance in his first Madison Square Garden main event and first nationally televised bout.

Armstrong, of Elizabeth, N.J., who had scored but one knockout in his previous 15 victories, weighed only 154 pounds to Calhoun's 180 1/2. He floored Rory once each in the first, second, fourth and ninth rounds with trip-hammer left hooks.

The three ring officials favored Armstrong on a round basis 7-2-1, 7-3, 6-3-1. The United Press International agreed, 8-2.

Just in passing, it also put the runaway Yankees 16 1/2 games ahead of the field. Ford got the only run he needed in the first inning when Hank Bauer singled off the Delock and came around on Tony Kubek's double.

Orlows Lose Again—The Senators handed the Orioles their 11th straight defeat, 4-2, Cleveland crushed Kansas City, 10-4, and Detroit topped Chicago, 6-2.

In the National League, Philadelphia edged Milwaukee, 7-6, but the Braves retained their seven-game lead when Los Angeles defeated San Francisco, 6-3. Pittsburgh blanked Cincinnati, 1-0, and the Cardinals won their fifth straight by beating the Cubs, 6-3.

Russ Kemmerer posted his sixth victory for Washington at Clemente's single.

Yanks Stick To Same Old Ford

By MILTON RICHMAN

United Press International Detroit may be switching to small cars but the Yankees are sticking to their same old model Ford to get them to the World Series.

Whitely Ford doesn't have white walls or power steering. He does, however, have seven shutouts and 14 victories, and if you think the Yanks would give him up in a trade-in you simply don't know your market, mister.

Ford's seventh shutout was a three-hit 2-0 victory over the Red Sox Friday night. It put him one away from the club record of eight shutouts set by Russ Ford in 1910 and six away from the American League record of 13 in a single season set by the late Jack Coombs.

Just in passing, it also put the runaway Yankees 16 1/2 games ahead of the field. Ford got the only run he needed in the first inning when Hank Bauer singled off the Delock and came around on Tony Kubek's double.

OFFICIAL RESIGNS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As-

THEY'RE PEACHY!

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

MIDSUMMER's a peachy season if ever there was one! It's the time of year when this favorite fruit comes to the market in abundant quantity, and the 1958 crop is hailed as the best ever.

Delicious Desserts

Rosy and ripe, juicy and flavorful, peaches, the peach has what it takes to make delicious, nourishing, non-fattening (only 46 calories per peach) and easily assembled desserts.

The most elaborate sweet treat can't taste better than a dish of peach ice cream topped with fresh peach slices. Or serve your peaches with a dash of sour cream, a scoop of cottage or cream cheese. Simple! Yes! But a sure success!

Ready-mix puddings perk up when topped with peaches. Gelatin gains glamour when garnished with the golden fruit slices. Make a peach shortcake or bake a peach pie.

For Winter Meals

Take advantage of the bumper crop and preserve peaches to bring the taste of summer to fall and winter meals.

Two preserves to pass when meat is the main dish are Peach Relish and Spiced Peaches. Both have an old-fashioned goodness that adds a special touch to any menu. Happy the hostess who can point to either with pride and say, "Made it myself!"

For a spread that's wonderful with breakfast toast or hot bread, you can't beat Peach Conserve. It makes sure to be talked about sweet sandwiches, to serve at a tea party, too.

PEACH CONSERVE, made with cherries and nuts, is spooned into jars. A wonderful special-occasion spread for toast!

Spiced Fresh Peaches: Wash and peel 25 to 30 firm ripe peaches. Leave whole and stud each with 2 whole cloves.

Cover with boiling water. Boil until almost tender, about 5 min. Drain (leaving 1/2 c. liquid for syrup).

Combine 2 c. granulated sugar, 2 1/2 c. brown sugar, 1/2 c. water or peach liquid, 2 c. cider vinegar, 3 sticks whole cinnamon and 1 tsp. whole allspice (tied in a cheese cloth bag). Boil 5 min.

Drop in enough peaches (4 to 5) at one time to fill a 1-pt. jar and cook until tender, 10 to 15 min. Remove spice bag. Pack peaches in hot sterilized jar with stick of cinnamon. Slide a knife down side of jar to release air bubbles. Wipe off top, adjust lid and seal at once.

Return spice bag to saucepan and repeat peach-cooking process until you have filled 9 (1-pt.) jars.

Fresh Peach Conserve: Place 2 qts. crushed fresh peaches (7 to 8 lbs. of peaches make 2 qts. when crushed),

Lana Turner Comes Back To Movies

By HAZEL K. JOHNSON

United Press International

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The minute Lana Turner walked on the movie set with a brave, bright smile and her head held high the tension surrounding her return to the movie business began to evaporate.

By mid-morning the cast and crew of Universal-International's re-make of "Imitation of Life," were relaxed—and full of admiring praise for the slender blonde as she politely, but ever so firmly, indicated the door is shut when it comes to the events of the past four months.

LANA'S BACK—Lana Turner sits for light meter tests in Hollywood in preparation for going back before the cameras again after an absence following fatal knifing of Johnny Stompanato by her daughter.

Lana, her short locks "lengthened" by a matching platinum "fall," was available to 14 e press. But the subject of her daughter, Cheryl, and the knife death of Johnny Stompanato Jr. on Good Friday, were clearly to be avoided.

The actress did admit to a little "nervousness."

"But I always am when I start a picture," she said in a clear, firm voice.

Only her eyes and an occasional nervous movement of her beautifully manicured hands showed the strain she was under.

Dressed in a simple, gingham gown—and looking 10 years younger than she did when she gave testimony which cleared her 14-year-old daughter of Stompanato's death at a coroner's inquest last May, Lana would speak only of the future.

"Cheryl may come and visit me on the set," was her sole reference to her tall, quiet-speaking daughter who by court order is living with her grandmother until a final custody hearing next month.

"She always does," Lana said, adding that her daughter "loves to watch."

Asked if she thought Cheryl might be interested in becoming an actress, Lana said she wasn't sure.

"Cheryl's artistically inclined and draws and sketches," she said. "But I don't know about becoming an actress."

"Everyone has been so kind, so considerate," she said, her eyes filled with tears for an instant. "And it is a little frightening." Then, with a quicksilver change of mood, she added, with a laugh, "sometimes I can't even remember my name."

The actress brushed aside reports she might retire from the movies and said her own production company is shopping around for scripts.

"I'd like to do some producing about 10 years from now," she said. "I like to think it would be in two years. But 10 is probably closer to it."

Drop Noted In Those Killed By Catastrophe

NEW YORK, N. Y. — About one third fewer persons died in catastrophes—accidents in which five or more persons are killed—in the United States in the first six months of this year than in the similar period of 1957, it is reported by statisticians.

The six-month catastrophic death toll of about 1,200 in 1958 included the loss of at least 350 lives in Audrey, the unseasonable June hurricane. This year there were no comparable natural disasters, and the number killed dropped to slightly over 800.

However, fatalities from both civil and military aviation catastrophes have been appreciably greater this year than last. Fires in dwellings and apartments took an increased number of lives; motor vehicle mishaps in which five or more were killed about equaled 1957; but tornadoes and floods both showed declines.

Heaviest toll in a single disaster was the 49 lives lost in the collision of a scheduled airliner and a jet near Las Vegas, Nev., on April 21. Two military planes collided over Los Angeles on February 1, killing 48; and a scheduled plane crashed near Midland, Mich., on April 6, taking 47 lives.

The only natural disaster of the year was a group of tornadoes which hit northwestern Wisconsin on June 4, claiming 30 victims. The two remaining major catastrophes took place in late February. One involved poisonous liquor in New York City, causing 27 deaths. The other occurred when a school bus plunged into a river near Prestonburg, Ky., drowning 27 all but one of them children.

HE'S NEXT—This is Teamsters union official Herman Klerdorf, 67, uncle of Teamsters official Frank Klerdorf, who was turned into a "human torch" near Pontiac, Mich. After nephew Frank had been burned over 85 per cent of his body, the elder Klerdorf received an anonymous phone call during which a voice said, "You're next." Both men got their Teamsters jobs from Teamsters President James Hoffa after serving prison terms. Herman, fearful, disappeared into hiding.

ADVICE FOR PARENTS

LONDON (UPI) — The Church of England newspaper urged its readers today to still "infantile squawks" during Sunday services by feeding their children hearty breakfasts before taking them to church.

"A baby full of breakfast will most likely sleep through a hundred hymns," the church paper said. "If he does not, it is likely that he is teething, and should either be taken out of church or left at home for a Sunday or two."

ACTS ON HAWAII BILL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Interior Committee overwhelmingly approved a bill Wednesday to make Hawaii the 50th state. But Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas said the measure had "no chance" of passage at this session of Congress.
